The Washington State Human Rights Commission appreciates hearing from residents about items on its agenda, and desires to set aside time at the start of each Commission business meeting for Public Comment.

- All comments must be limited to items on the agenda.
- Speakers are asked to identify the specific agenda items they wish to address.
- To ensure equal opportunity for the public to comment:
    - A speaker's comments shall be limited to up to five minutes per person, per meeting.
    - Where necessary, due to the number of people who want to address the Commission, the Commission Chair shall retain authority to limit all persons' remarks to an equal period of less than five minutes.
    - To further ensure equal opportunity for the public to comment, each person may address the Commission only once during the Public Comment portion of the meeting.
    - Comments may be made on the Actions on the Agenda or items relevant to the Human Rights Commission.
    - Written comments submitted prior to Commission action shall be considered in the same manner as oral comments.
- All remarks will be addressed to the Commission as a whole.
